

APSI SPEAKER SERIES FALL 2017

CHENG LI

Director, John L. Thornton China Center and Senior Foreign Policy Fellow, The Brookings Institution

Chinese Politics in the Xi Era: Reassessing Collective Leadership

Tuesday, September 19, 2017 3:00 pm

Holsti-Anderson Family Assembly Room (Rubenstein Library, Room 153), Duke West Campus

KERRY ROSS

Associate Professor, Department of History, DePaul University

Between Art and Industry: Middle-Class Masculinity and Middlebrow Aesthetics in Early Twentieth-Century Japan

Monday, September 25, 2017 12:00 noon

Breedlove Room (Rubenstein Library, Room 349), Duke West Campus

BRIAN R. MYERS

Associate Professor, International Studies Department, Dongseo University

Arming for Unification: Korean Nationalism and the Nuclear Crisis

Tuesday, October 17, 2017 6:00 pm

Holsti-Anderson Family Assembly Room (Rubenstein Library, Room 153), Duke West Campus

MIN ZHANG

Journalist, Mandarin Service, Radio Free Asia

Rescuing History from beyond the Walls: Eighteen Years with Radio Free Asia

Wednesday, November 8, 2017 3:00 pm

Carpenter Room (Rubenstein Library, Room 249), Duke West Campus

HEONIK KWON

Senior Research Fellow, Division of Social Anthropology, Trinity College, University of Cambridge

The Lines of the Cold War: Alignment, Entanglement and Dots

Tuesday, November 14, 2017 4:30 pm

The Ahmadiieh Family Conference Hall (J. H. Franklin Center, Room 240)

BRYAN TILT

Associate Professor, Department of Anthropology, Oregon State University

China's Pollution Crisis in Context: Language, History, Politics, Place

Monday, December 4, 2017 3:00 pm

Carpenter Room (Rubenstein Library, Room 249), Duke West Campus